

VOW RENEWAL CEREMONY Two

Two Guys and a Wedding

Bride and Groom, it is a pleasure to share today's very special occasion with you.

Many people believe that entering into marriage is the final step in a romantic relationship. But marriage is not meant to be the final step in a couple's relationship—it is really just the beginning of a grand adventure, which hopefully, will be long and fruitful for each couple.

You have shared the joys, blessings, and yes, the challenges, of married life for 22 years. And, today you wish to reconfirm your commitment to working together to make your marriage grow and blossom in the years to come. May this ceremony, renewing the vows you took to become husband and wife on your wedding day, remind you that despite the stresses inevitable in every life, your love, respect, trust and understanding of each other will continue to increase your contentment and heighten your joy in living.

This is a good break to say something each other from the heart.

Please join hands.

Groom, will you continue to have Bride as your wife and continue to live in this marriage? (I WILL)

Do you reaffirm your love for her, and will you love, honor and cherish her in sickness and in health, for richer or poorer, for better for worse, and forsaking all others, be faithful to her as long as you both shall live? (I DO)

Bride, will you continue to have Groom as your husband and continue to live in this marriage? (I WILL)

Do you reaffirm your love for him, and will you love, honor and cherish him in sickness and in health, for richer or poorer, for better for worse, and forsaking all others, be faithful to him as long as you both shall live? (I DO)

Reading from Corinthians:

Love is patient, love is kind.

It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud.

It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs.

Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth.

It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres.

Love never fails.

RINGS: OPTIONAL, new rings can be used or this can be omitted

Groom and Bride, On your wedding day you exchanged rings as a symbol of the never-ending circle that symbolizes the eternal quality of God, unending strength, and unending love!.

May you always wear your rings as a reminder of your wedding vows to each other, and your commitment to continue to live in unity, love and happiness. To remind you of that commitment made on your wedding day, you will now renew your pledge.

Groom, please place your gift of a ring on Bride's hand with the words, With this ring I renew my pledge of love and commitment

Bride, please place your gift of a ring on Groom's hand with the words, With this ring I renew my pledge of love and commitment

God bless these rings and the two who exchanged them in love on their wedding day. Keep Groom and Bride safe in the circle of your protection and love.

May you each remember to continue to cherish each other as special and unique individuals and respect the thoughts and ideas of one another. I encourage you to remember forgiveness, humility, and gratitude are the foundation of all good relationships. Live each day as it is the only day we have. Yesterday is gone and cannot be changed and tomorrow is beyond our reach. Be available to each other to give love, comfort, and refuge, in good times and bad.

Groom and Bride, today you have renewed the promises and vows you made to each other on your wedding day. You have symbolized the renewal of the marriage union by the joining of hands, the taking of vows, and by the wearing of your wedding rings.

May your marriage continue to be a blessing to you both, to your family, and to your friends.

It is with pleasure that I conclude this ceremony that joined you and binds you as husband and wife.

You sir, once again, may kiss the bride!
